Setting up a residents' association

Do you want to have a say in the way your services are run?

Whether you want to campaign for play facilities, do something to improve your neighbourhood or just meet and help other residents living near you, the solution is to start up a residents' association.

How can you start up a residents' association?

We can help you to do this. We can give you advice and encouragement whenever you need it. To begin with we can help in organising and inviting residents to the first meeting. We can help you to find a venue and publicise the event.

Will any training be provided?

To operate effectively members of an association may need some training as it can be quite daunting to manage a meeting if you don't have experience of this. So to give you confidence and experience we will provide suitable training to give you the skills you need.

What about financial assistance?

We can provide financial help for groups who meet our criteria. Funding may also be available from other sources. We can help you with this.

We can also help in the following ways:

- Help with finding a room for your meetings
- Photocopying leaflets, flyers or letters
- Providing stationery
- Providing computer access as required
- Help with training

Having a Constitution

It is a good idea for residents associations to have a standard constitution. This is a document that sets out the aims and objectives of the group. We can help you to do this.

Will Mossbank provide support to the meetings?

A representative from Mossbank will attend meetings to give support for as long as you need it. This will help us to action any issues raised and update the group on local issues. You will also be able to invite other agencies such as the police or environmental services.

We also provide support for residents associations which are cross-tenure groups. This means groups which include residents of other landlords and / or owner occupiers.
